The Story of Pirate Tom

Long, long ago, there was a pirate called Tom. Tom sailed the seven seas in his pirate boat 'The Jolly Roger.'

Unfortunately, it was not very jolly because they had no treasure. The pirates were glum. Tom did not know how to cheer them up.

First, they sailed from island to island.

Next, they went searching for treasure.

Finally, they dug down deep but all they found was an old fish-bone and a smelly boot! That made the pirates miserable. They cried and they cried and they cried. So off they sailed.

In the distance, the clouds were growing larger and larger.

In the distance, the rain was pouring harder and harder.

In the distance, a storm was coming closer and closer.

The pirates sailed the Jolly Roger to the Island of Rockabilly. All night the storm lashed their boats and the waves smashed the island and the rain bashed the rocks.

The next morning it was sunny. Pirate Tom decide to go for a swim. Deep down in the water, he saw something glittering, something glistening, something gleaming. It was a box of treasure that the storm had uncovered.

"Yo, ho, ho me hearties. I've found treasure," called Tom.

All day the pirates swam down and up, down and up, down and up. In the end, they had a huge pile of treasure and huge grins on their faces.
